INTRODUCTION

This useful calendar conveniently summarizes all of the opening and closing dates for schools in every province and territory in Canada. Since, in a number of jurisdictions, school boards are allowed considerable freedom in setting opening and closing dates for their schools, the first chart indicates whether or not the province sets the dates. If the dates are set by the local school board, those of large urban cities are also included. Explanatory notes from regulations and legislation are also included at the end of this document.

NOTES

YUKON

In Yukon, every school council and school board can make recommendations to the Minister of Education to set its own calendar. The duration of the school day varies from 5 hours to 5 hours and 30 minutes. The total number of school days varies from 173 to 184. All Yukon students attend school for the prescribed 950 hours of instruction required by the Education Act. The school calendars recognize statutory holidays such as Labour Day, Thanksgiving, Remembrance Day, Christmas Day, Boxing Day, New Year's Day, Heritage Day (February), Good Friday, Easter Monday, and Victoria Day. School councils, in consultation with staff, may declare other school closed days, so long as the total of 950 instructional hours is met. Councils also establish 3 professional development days within the 950 hours in consultation with their school's administration.

NORTHWEST TERRITORIES

In the Northwest Territories the school year calendar varies for each school division and sometimes for each school within a division. The Calendar is determined by each District Education Authority, at the community level, to fit with community customs and seasonal activities. Most calendars are similar to the traditional Canadian school calendar, with a start date in late August or early September and a closing date near the end of June. We do have a couple of schools that start the year near the beginning of August and finish the last week of May or early June. Most schools, however, begin classes during the last week of August or first week of September and conclude the school year the last week of June.

In addition to all the national statutory holidays, all our schools are closed for National Aboriginal Day on June 21. Education Authorities may also choose to recognize particular community holidays in their school calendar. Our Schools have 180 - 188 sessional days for students in all grades (depending on the calendar chosen) and teachers employed by the GNWT are on duty for 195 days. Teachers from the 2 Yellowknife Boards are on duty for 192 days in a year.

Kindergarten has 485 hours minimum/year for half-day kindergarten and 750 hours minimum/year for full-day kindergarten. The maximum length of day is 360 minutes per day. Grades 1-6 have 997 hours per year minimum with 330 minutes per day as maximum length of school day. Grades 7-12 have 1045 hours/year minimum with 345 minutes per day as maximum length of school day. Schools may include up to 45 hours unscheduled instruction time, for such things as cultural activities on the land, curricular related field trips, or parent/teacher/student interviews.

NUNAVUT

All schools have different opening and closing dates. The territory is vast, and due to different geographical locations and longitudes—daylight & darkness—they have the flexibility of setting their own dates. Each community is empowered to choose a school year that falls within the rules established by the Minister but is unique to the community. School years are established by the District Education Authorities (DEA) in each community.

NOTES (continued)

BRITISH COLUMBIA

The Lieutenant Governor on Council sets a standard school calendar. For the 2012/2013 school year, the standard school calendar sets out a minimum of 186 days of instruction. A local board of education may adopt, after a consultation process with the parents and board employees assigned to a school, a school calendar that differs from the standard school calendar.

The standard school calendar for 2012/2013 prescribes a minimum of 193 days in session. These days are made up of 186 days of instruction, six non-instructional days, and one administrative day (year-end). In addition to the statutory holidays, the standard school calendar provides for a winter vacation period and a spring vacation period. Starting in the 2012/2013 school year British Columbia will have a statutory holiday, Family Day, on the second Monday in February.

Boards of education may adopt a local school calendar after consulting with parents and board employees assigned to the school. This means, for example, some schools have a four-day school week, or an extended Spring Break. Boards that set local school calendars must provide no less than the minimum number of hours of instruction required under the standard school calendar.

Boards of Education set Professional Development Days. For more information you may visit individual board web sites through the ministry map's page @ <http://www.bced.gov.bc.ca/schools/bcmap.htm>

Starting in the 2013/14 school year the Lieutenant Governor in Council will no longer set standard school calendars; boards of education across the province will be responsible for setting local school calendars.

ALBERTA

In general, the school year extends from September to June with minor variations within some school jurisdictions. Most schools are closed in July and August, and for various periods of time during the winter/Christmas and spring/Easter breaks. Each local school board sets its own opening and closing dates, as well as the number of operating days, keeping in mind the following legislative requirements: a vacation at least from December 24 to January 2. Boards are required to provide 950 hours of instruction for elementary and junior high school students, and 1,000 hours of instruction for senior high students. The School Act states that a board may not require a teacher to instruct students for more than 1,100 hours in a school year or for more than 200 days in a school year unless the teacher agrees. Thus the number of working days possible for teachers is variable each month.

The spring and Christmas breaks, board-declared holidays, 2 days for teachers' conventions and various other provincial and federal holidays bring the number of instructional days down to an average of 185-190. A board may declare 1 day a month to be a school holiday. Statutory holidays are observed by all boards. Family Day is a statutory holiday in Alberta, and is observed on the third Monday in February. Easter Monday and Farmers' Day may be observed at the discretion of the local school board.

SASKATCHEWAN

Boards of education in Saskatchewan set their own opening and closing dates for the school year keeping in mind the following: a) Students must begin school after Labour Day, teachers may begin prior to Labour Day; b) The number of days in the 2012-13 school year which is set at 197 days (different from the number of days students are in classrooms due to teachers' professional days); c) The Christmas vacation must commence no later than December 23 and end no earlier than January 2, both days inclusive; d) There shall be a spring vacation consisting of the five days following Easter Sunday and e) A summer vacation must consist of at least 6 consecutive weeks from the last school day in one school year to the first school day in the following school year and must end no earlier than the first Monday in August. The school year runs from July 1 to June 30.

Saskatchewan does not prescribe instructional days. The number of instructional for teachers varies as each board of education sets their own calendar. The total number of school days in each school division must be 197.

Easter Monday is not a prescribed holiday but it falls during the spring vacation which consists of the 5 days immediately following Easter Sunday. Remembrance Day is a holiday only if it falls on a school day (Monday-Friday). No holiday in lieu of Remembrance Day following on a Saturday or a Sunday is required but it is provided for by most boards of education. A board of education may declare any day but no more than one day at a time to be a holiday. Family day is observed on the third Monday in February.

MANITOBA

The school year must consist of 196 days and may begin no earlier than September 4, 2012. School boards may set the opening and closing dates for the school year. The Christmas vacation period is to begin no later than December 23, 2012 or earlier as determined by the school board, and extend to January 2, 2013 inclusive, or later as determined by the school board. For the 2012-2013 school year, all divisions will be closed for the Christmas vacation period from December 22, 2012 until January 6, 2013.

The number of school days in February is shortened by one day due to the establishment in 2008 of a new provincial statutory holiday on the third Monday of February each year (February 18, 2013). The spring vacation will be one week beginning the last Monday in March (March 25 to 29, 2013 inclusive). School boards may add to, but not delete from, statutory holidays and spring break as long as the 196 school days requirement is met. The last day of classes must be no later than June 28, 2013.

By regulation, up to 10 days in a school year are dedicated for non-instructional purposes (teacher in-service, parent-teacher conferences, pupil evaluation, and administration). For 2012-13, then, the number of instructional days for teachers would be 186. However, as the dates for non-instructional days are determined by each school division and will vary from division to division. The chart of instructional days simply sets out the number of available school days (as opposed to instructional days) in each month.

ONTARIO

Boards have the option of submitting a regular school year calendar or a modified school year calendar. A regular school year calendar generally indicates that the school year begins on or after September 1 and ends on or before June 30, with a minimum of 194 school days between the beginning and end of the school year. A board may designate up to ten instructional days as examination days.

However, boards may choose to submit a modified school year calendar to the Minister for approval. A modified school year calendar is characterized by one of the following: an earlier or later start or end date than the regular school calendar; school holidays that differ from the regular school calendar; or differences in the format of the regular school year calendar, such as a year-round school calendar with a shortened summer vacation, and holidays dispersed throughout the year.

Boards can request a modified calendar which could include instructional days in July and/or August. There are 22 days available in August 2012 and 22 days available in July 2013.

QUÉBEC

The number of work days for teachers is a maximum of 200 days spread between September 1st and June 30th. A school board and a union can agree to change the beginning and end dates of the school year. However, they cannot change the number of days under any circumstances. Each school board negotiates the distribution of working days within the civil calendar, without altering the number of work days or the period covered by the work year. As a rule, the school year never goes over June 30th, but can start before September.

NEWFOUNDLAND AND LABRADOR

The Department of Education sets the opening and closing dates for the school year. The five school boards have the discretion to organize the school calendar around the set opening and closing dates. Districts determine the dates and length of holiday periods. The Christmas vacation is usually 8-10 school days. Most school districts take an Easter break of approximately six school days (usually starting Good Friday with students returning the Monday of the following week). The length of the school year for 2012-13 shall be 195 teaching days comprised of 187 actual teaching days, three paid holidays, two non-teaching days to be scheduled by the district during the school year for administrative purposes, and three professional development days. Each teacher may receive up to five days as professional development days. Statutory holidays for the school year are October 8 (Thanksgiving Day), November 11 (Armistice Day), and May 21 (Victoria Day).

Possible instructional days are based on the calendar of the largest school district and the calendar for other Districts may vary slightly. From the 190 noted days there would be 3 “close-out” days for teacher professional development. These days would be determined by the districts/schools.

NEW BRUNSWICK

The length of the school year is 195 days, comprised of: 185 instructional days for students, 1 day for NBTA/AEFNB Branch Meetings, 3 Subject Council Days, 4 District Administration Days, and 2 days for pedagogical activities focused on curriculum. School Districts will also schedule two days as a combination of parent teacher meetings and professional development activities during the instructional year (one full day in the fall and one full day in the spring).

School calendar is established by the Minister of Education and Early Childhood Development under Regulation of Education Act. School districts only have authority to schedule instructional days where it is specifically granted by the Minister.

NOVA SCOTIA

The school calendar is set by the province and applies to all school boards. Of the 195-day school year, no more than eight days may be used for organizational and administrative purposes, or for in-service training programs. All teachers must be present on the days used for organizational and administrative purposes or in-service training programs, but pupils are not required to be present. When the 195th day in any year falls on a Monday, a board may declare that it will be observed on the Saturday immediately preceding the Monday.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

The regulations set a total of 195 to 197 days to be used in each school year including an orientation day for teachers at the start of the school year, professional development days and up to three days that may be used for end of school year activities. The regulations also provide for a school board-wide professional development day between the first and the second high school semesters and allow two days for parent-teacher interviews. A school board may give approval to a school to carry out a professional development program for one-half of any day designated for parent-teacher interviews. The Minister of Education and Early Childhood Development may vary the calendar for a school or school board upon application by a school board.
